Postage and Packaging

The prices listed above are exclusive of postage and packaging.

Orders are packed very carefully and sent by special delivery (next day service) to ensure that they arrive safely. I cannot take responsibility for orders once posted, however Royal Mail's special delivery service offers compensation for loss or damage in the post. Postage and packaging is dependent on the size and weight of your order and ranges from £6.50-25.00.

Placing an order

Please contact me for a no-obligation quote and to confirm availability.

50% deposit is required to secure your booking. Once your deposit is received I will send you confirmation of the order plus a delivery date via email.

Please check spelling and formatting as the piece will be written using the wording exactly as provided.

Where applicable please send me your stationery and let me know when you're posting it so I can look out for it.

Please also supply an extra 10-15% spares in case I make any mistakes.

Your order will be sent to you on receipt of the full balance so please ensure that the final payment reaches me before the delivery due date to avoid delay.

You can pay by direct bank transfer, PayPal, or cheque, whichever is easiest for you. (Please allow 5 working days for cheques to clear).
